E. SESSION SUMMARY:

Summary of Information

This target produced a vibrating sensation in my hands which felt like the result of receiving a mild electric current or charge. There was a "rocky" motion which caused a bit of dizziness as well as nausea (which may be a result of each other). I felt as if I were being drawn into something as well.

The scene was reminiscent of a bolt of lightening striking a tall structure or tower. The background was very dark blue with a circular central area illuminated behind the structure/tower. The scene produced a feeling like that of a blast furnace or high energy generator; the surrounding air felt charged and made everything tingle.

Elsewhere, and during all of this, was a living organism, an animal I think, that at least a portion thereof was moving in and out of loose soil. The perception was that of only an eye or part of a head being visible at any one time. There were other amorphous objects whose movement was reminiscent of seedlings sprouting as seen via time lapse.

There was a series of rectangles standing on end and positioned as to touch each other. Another feature resembled a stack of books or shoe boxes. There were alot of ambiguous shapes/objects which occurred within particularly shadowy areas. There was the end of one large and obvious broken wooden beam. The phonetics "WHI-SASH-A" were also perceived associated with target.
